

GSDP – Good Storage and distribution practice is refers to the regulatory guidelines provided by the World Health Organization (WHO) that control all the process of pharmaceutical and medicinal products to ensure their quality and integrity is maintained throughout the supply chain from the manufacturer to the end user.

Trainer: Roula Kardous

- Who should attend?

- Employees who are competent in the departments of procurement, needs, logistics specially in pharmaceutical or health care institutions, authorities, companies, different departments.
- Pharmacist and all medical rep in scientific offices of healthcare company.
- Employees in warehouse, distribution, departments.
- Supply chain, regulatory employees and managers.
- Personnel departments of sales and marketing departments.
- Specialists in the departments of administrative affairs.
- Drugstores and third parties agents of pharmaceutical companies.

- Objectives:

- Providing tool to secure the storing and distribution, supply chain system
- Ensure professional handling for pharmaceutical and healthcare products referring to international standards.
- Identify risk & establish mitigation plans accordingly
- Maintain the original quality of pharmaceutical products,
- Ensure that every activity of storing, distribution and supply chain is complied with the applicable regulations according to the principles of WHO.

- Content :
- Personnel
- Premises and equipment
- Documentation
- Operations
- Complaints- Return- Recall
- Falsified products
- Outsourced activities
- Self-inspections
- Transportation
- Labelling
- Quality Management System